The Honeytrap Hustle

Whether it's a suspicious email promising riches or a too-good-to-be-true offer, remember: if it sounds too sweet, it's probably a trap!

2

THE IMPOSTOR SYNDROM

Be on high alert for impostors posing as trusted allies. Whether it's a fake customer service call or a phishing email disguised as your boss, verify the identity of anyone requesting sensitive information.

3

THIS IS THE AUTHORITY SPEAKING

Question suspicious requests from supposed authorities. Whether it's a demanding phone call or a stern email demanding urgent action, verify the legitimacy of the request through official channels.

4

DO YOU NEED HELP?

Be cautious of unexpected communications from supposed customer service representatives. If you receive a call or email claiming to be from customer support offering assistance with your account, don't provide information right away.

5

DON'T BE SO SOCIAL

Cyber spies often search social media profiles for juicy tidbits they can use to craft convincing scams. Don't overshare, how about some mystery?

6

SHOULDER SURFING

Keep a close watch on your surroundings to avoid snooping spies. Shield your screens and input devices from prying eyes, whether you're in the office or on the go.
